Quarter 2 - Module 5:

Title, Author and Book Illustrators

Name of Learner: _____

Grade & Section: _____

Name of School: _____

What I Need to Know

Welcome to another lesson in English 2. In this module, you will be learning some specific parts of a book. Learning each part of a book is as important as the knowledge we can get from reading it. Understanding each part will help you use the book in a much more meaningful manner.

As you go through this lesson, you will learn how to identify the title, author and book illustrator and tell what they do.

What's In

Hi there! In this part, your background knowledge about this lesson will be tested. All you have to do is to underline the correct word inside the parenthesis to complete the sentences below. Are you ready?

Let's start!

1. The (title, illustrator) draws the picture of a book.
2. The (author, title) tells us what a book is all about.
3. The (illustrator, author) writes the words of a book.
4. The title, author, and illustrator are (parts of a book, parts of a song.)
5. The author is the one who (writes, draws) words of a book.

What's New

Let us learn the different parts of a book through the song. After singing the song, answer the questions that follow.

Parts of the Book

Author: Dr. Jean Rosenberg Feldman

(There are three parts, there are three parts,

There are three parts to a book.) 2x

There's the title. There's the author.

There's the illustrator.

Now we'll tell you, what they all do,
What the three parts do.

The title tells you what the story is,
What you're reading about.
The title starts with a capital,
And is usually at the top.

The author is a person, who writes the words.
The author thinks of a story, and writes it all down.

The illustrator is a person, who draws the picture.
The illustrator makes up pictures that go with the words.

Now we know them, now we know them
The three parts of a book.
There's the title. There's the author.
An illustrator, too.

Questions:

1. What is the song all about?

---

2. How many parts of the book are there according to the song?

---

3. What are the three parts of the book?

---

4. Do you think books are useful to your studies?

---

5. If you have a book, how would you take good care of it?

What is it

A book has many parts. But you will only focus on its parts that are found on the books' cover page which you have learned from the song. The three parts of a book that you have learned are the title, author and illustrator.

Study the cover of a book below to find out where these three parts are located.

Now let's discuss what these three parts of a book do.

- The title tells what the story is or it is the name of the book. In the example above, the title of the book is "A Friend from the Star".
- The author is the one who writes the words. In the picture above, the author is "Edward C. Sison".
- The illustrator is the person who makes/ draws the pictures that go with the words. In the picture above the illustrator is "Janos D. Malce".

What's More

Test your understanding of the lesson. Here are some activities for you to answer.

Trees

by Joyce Kilmer

I think that I shall never see a poem lovely as a tree.

A tree whose hungry mouth is prest
Against the earth's sweet flowing breast;

A tree that looks at God all day,
And lifts her leafy arms to pray;

A tree that may in summer wear a nest of robins in her hair;

Upon whose bosom snow has lain;
Who intimately lives with rain.

Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.
