What Is It

News Report

It explains a real-life event, gives more information but does not use a lot of words. News Report is found in newspapers and their purpose is to inform readers of what is happening in the world around them. News reports have a certain structure that you need to follow. This structure is sometimes called the Inverted Pyramid. This is what it looks like:

Example of a News Report:

News Report includes the following:

1. Headline – A head (title) of a newspaper story or article usually printed in large type. Includes the photo of the article, byline (the one who wrote the news).

Example of a Headline:

2. The Lead Paragraph also called the introduction that gives information of the most important details of a story. It is often the only part of the story that people read. The content of the article or story includes the 5Ws and H:

Who : [was involved in the event?]

What : [happen?]

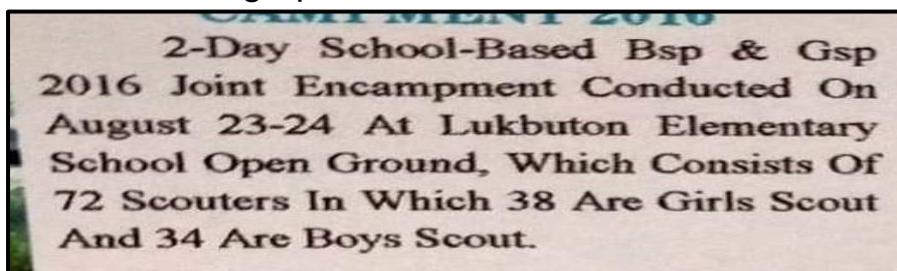

Where : [did it happen?]

When : [did it happen?]

Why : [did it happen?]

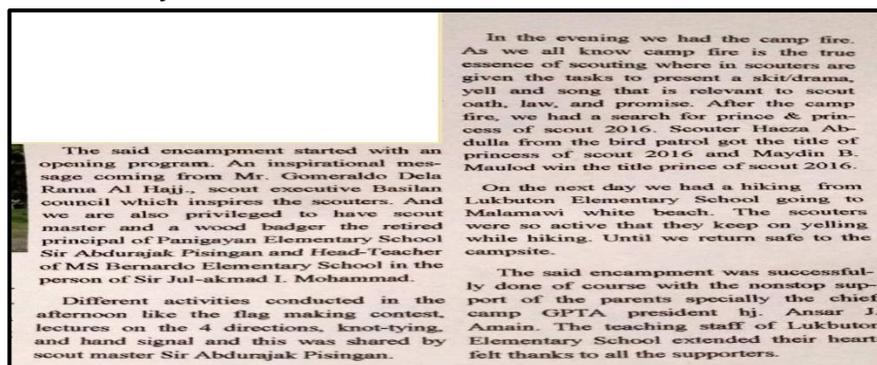

How : [did it happen?]

Example of a Lead Paragraph:

3. The Body – the body of the article is devoted to an analysis of the problem. It gives additional details about the Why and How of the story or an article. Includes someone’s quotation.

Example of the Body:

Tips on how to write a News Report

1. Collecting information – the purpose of a news report is to help readers get a true information about the event.
2. Starting the report – the most important information comes first and each paragraph gives less and less details. This style of writing is called “The Inverted Pyramid”.
3. Make sure report answers 5Ws, 1H.

4. Don't make it too long – sentences should be short and clear. This is a good opportunity for you to practice changing vocabulary, grammar and punctuation to enhance effects and clarify meaning.

5. Check facts - a news report is characterized by its use of facts, this is what differentiates it from an opinion piece.

6. Finally, think of good headline – A headline should be short and grab the attention of readers making them read more.
