What is it

Editorial

It is a short essay that shares an individual's opinion on a current event or social issue. The goal of a good editorial is to persuade the reader to consider your perspective and change their opinion. Editorials often focus on controversial issues with widely different viewpoints.

Editorials are believed to be the heart and soul of the newspaper. Each and every newspaper is incomplete without editorial section.

Parts of an Editorial

1. Introduction- the introduction builds a reader interest in the topic and gives an overview of the issue.
2. Argument- the argument presents opinion along with reasons why the audience should agree with you.

3. Evidence- the evidence supports your argument with facts, research or anecdotes.
4. Counterargument- all editorials writer should establish credibility by presenting a fair review of the perspectives involved.
5. Refutation- after sharing the counterargument with a reader, the writer must explain why that argument is not accurate or relevant.
6. Conclusion- in the final paragraph of your editorial, summarize your point of view and remind the reader why they should care about this issue.

Tips in Editorial Writing

1. Introduction, body and conclusion like other news stories.
2. An objective explanation of the issue, especially complex issue.
3. A timely news angle.
4. Opinion from the opposing viewpoint.
5. The opinions of the writer delivered in a professional manner.
6. Alternative solutions to the problem or issue being criticized.
7. A solid and concise conclusion that powerfully summarizes the writer's opinion.
