What I Need to Know

If you are looking to talk about how often something happens, then you will need to employ the use of an adverb of frequency. These can let our learners know that an event takes places weekly, hourly, monthly and a variety of other adverbs of frequency.

Knowing that adverbs of frequency is a great way to be able to further explain a situation within conversation, as well as adding a whole host of new words to your vocabulary.

In this module, the learners should be able to:

1. Compose clear and coherent sentences using grammatical structure Adverbs of frequency. (EN6G-Ig-4.4.1)

What I Know

Activity 1: How Far Do You Know

Directions: Choose the word from the box that has the same meaning in column A. Write your answer in column B.

Most of the time	Some of the time
almost never	not at any time	All of the time

Column A

1. Usually

2. Rarely

3. Sometimes

4. Never

5. Always

Column B

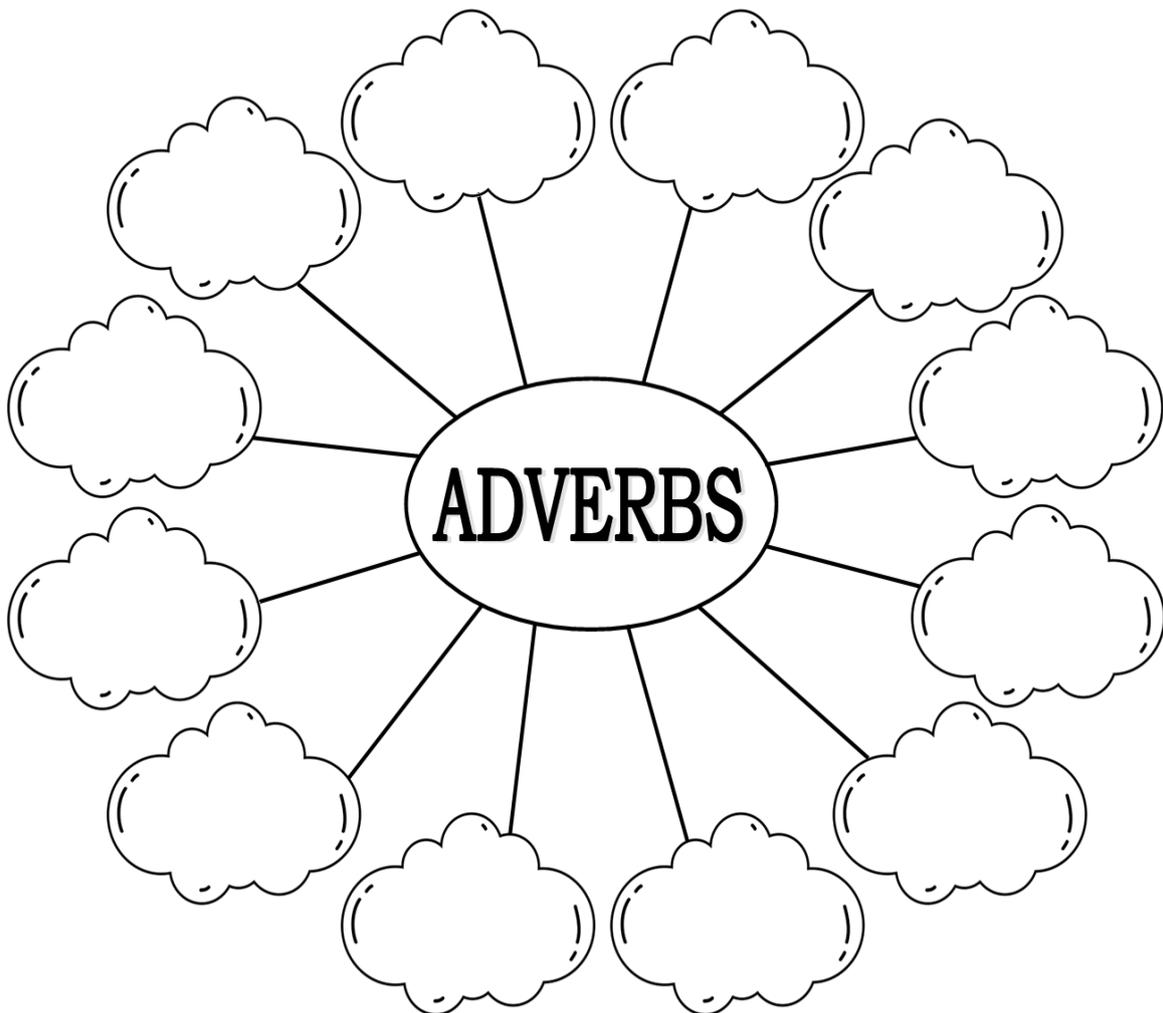

What's In

Activity 1: Fill Me Up!

Directions: Read the paragraph. Pick out all the adverbs and write your answers in the clouds below.

Today I helped my mom cook dinner. We carefully cut the vegetables and slowly placed them into a boiling pot of water. Next, mom quickly browned the chicken and patiently let it cook through. She works fast.

I eagerly waited for my next job, which was to gently sprinkle spices into the soup. But, I accidentally poured in too much seasoning. I quietly told my mom my mistake, and she sweetly told me, as a child, that's coincidentally mistake. Now I realize cooking is not as hard as I thought.

What's New

Directions: Read the dialogue and answer the questions below.

Paul: Hi Roy, I am going shopping. Do you want to come with me
Roy: I'm sorry, I can't because Kiko is coming.
Paul: Is that so?
Roy: Kiko and I will make our assignment.
Paul: Assignment in English? Can I make my assignment with you?
Roy: Of course! You are always welcome.
Paul: Hi Roy, you are always making good result in your test, what's your secret?
Roy: Secret? I never go to bed without studying.
Paul: Wow! You are so admirable! Do you still have time to play?
Roy: I sometimes go out with my friends to play.
Paul: I'm proud of you, I wish to be like you!

Sometimes

These words are adverbs of frequency. Adverb of frequency describes how often an action is done.

These are the list examples of adverb of frequency.

ADVERBS OF FREQUENCY
Adverbs	Examples
Always	She always goes to church to pray.
Usually	They usually quarrel.
Normally	I normally go to the gym.
Often	They often go out for dinner.
Sometimes	I sometimes go with my husband.
Occasionally	I occasionally eat junk food.
Seldom	I seldom read the newspaper
Rarely	I rarely go to cinema
Never	I never go to the cinema. I don't like it.

Simple rules for adverb of frequency.

- Use adverbs of frequency to discuss how often something happens.
Example. He is rarely late for work.
- Adverbs of frequency are often used to indicate routine or repeated activities, so they often used with the simple present tense.
Example: I usually walk to work.
- If a sentence has only one verb, place the adverb of frequency in the middle of the sentence so that it is positioned after the subject but before the verb.
Example: My father occasionally reads books.
- When a sentence contains more than one verb, place the adverb of frequency before the main verb.
Example: Mary often waters and cultivate her plants in the garden.
